Bill, (6:160)
It's been a great year and I sure hope
I can come out to the Hills
some time and see you
Good luck with the baseball season. See you around
Smitty

It was nice to have you in class, enjoy your

ADMINISTRATION

Faculty And Staff

Mr. Chuck Adair, small gas engine teacher, was so busy working he didn't even have time to come and have his portrait taken.

There are two types of employees who work for us at Central, the faculty and the staff. The faculty consists of the certified people, i.e. the teachers, the nurse, librarian, administrators, counselors and other specialists who visit campus from time to time as the need arises. The staff includes all the support personnel such as the aides, secretaries, cafeteria and bookstore workers and the custodial staff.

The things Dr. Keith Crandell, principal, looks for when evaluating a prospective employee are that he/she is competent in their field, dependable, have a positive attitude, be responsible and be willing and able to go the extra mile. How long a person stays depends on the performance of the individual. Many factors are considered during the numerous evaluations. When asked if student opinion is considered the answer was yes.

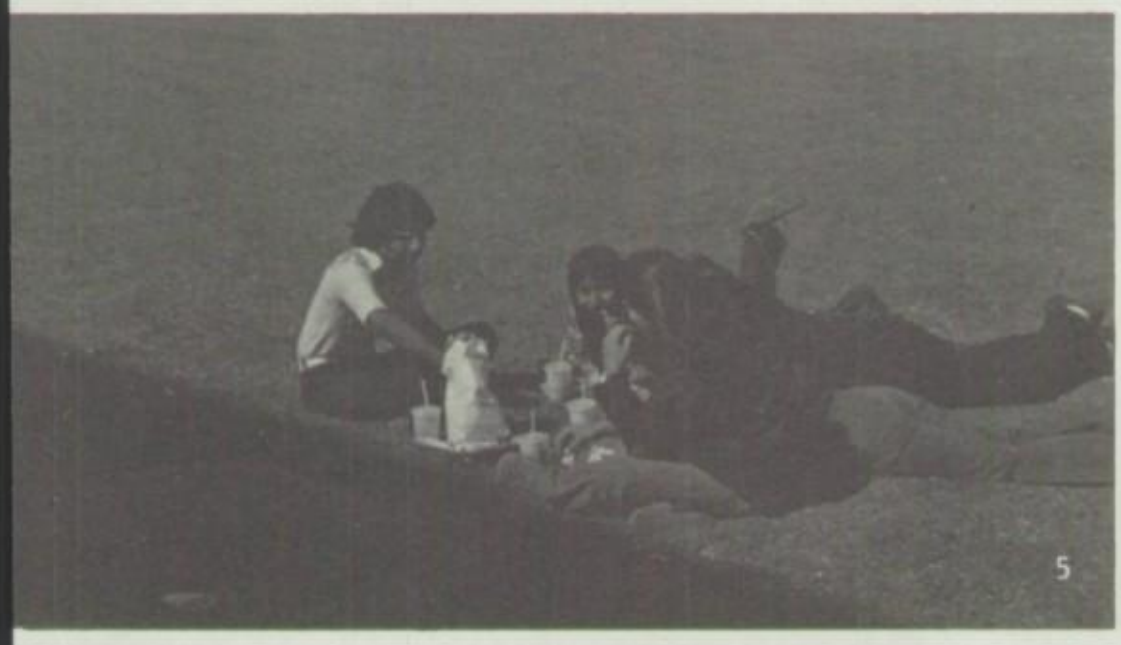
Lunchtime Relief

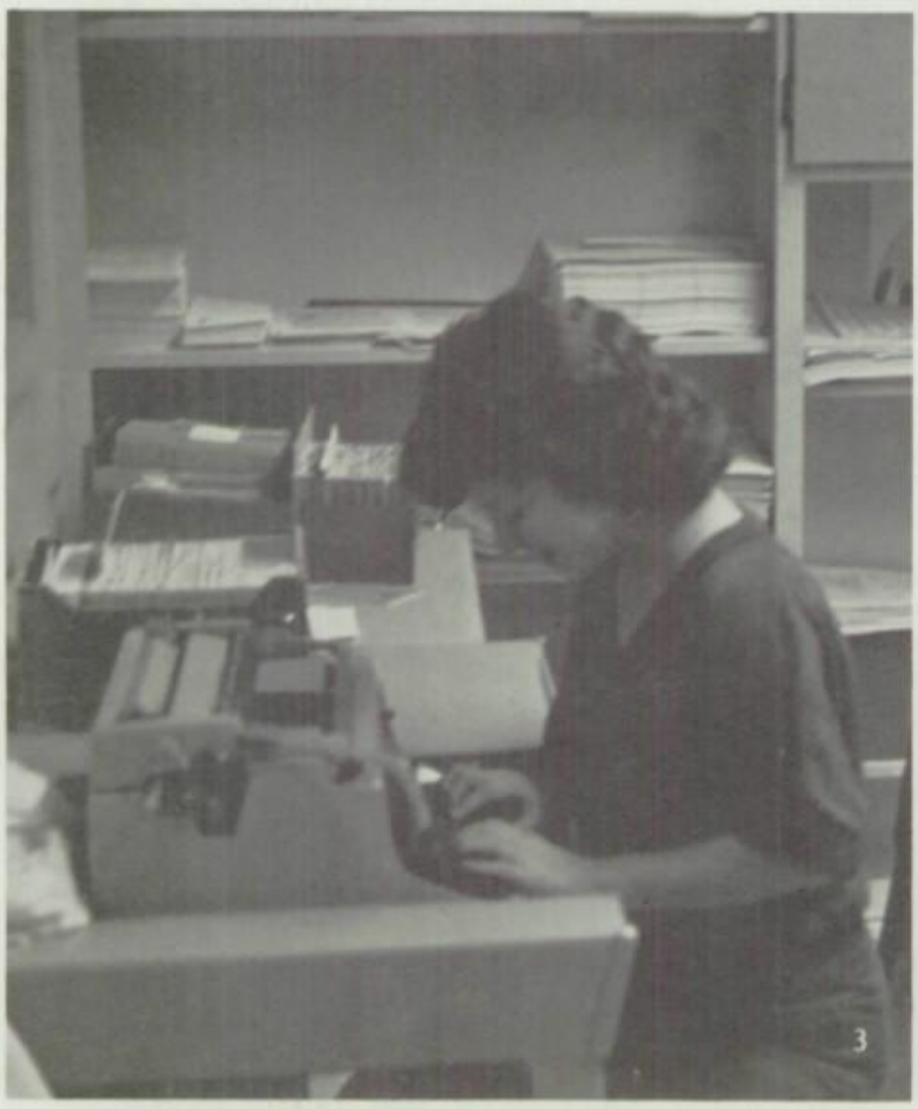
With an open campus and an hour for lunch students have many options. Quite a few students have cars and drive to school so their options aren't limited to places within walking distance. Some of the places frequented by students are Taco Bell, Jack-in-the-Box, Pete's Fish and Chips and the Fun Factory. Gardner's, the cafeteria, the snack bar and Central Quisine still receive around 50% of the business since there are often meetings, lawn concerts, intramurals and other activities during the lunch hour.

Central Quisine, which opened last year is a very popular place to eat for both students and teachers. You can get a hamburger or chef salad, french fries and a shake for only 70¢ (the same price as a cafeteria lunch). Remember when a school lunch was only 45¢? Inflation is everywhere.



1. Rosemary Duran, Charlotte Duran, San Juanita Esqueda, Todd Roepke and Jeff Bell take the Pepsi challange at Gardner's. 2. Don McFadden tests his driving skills at the Fun Factory. 3. "I love cafeteria food," says Jack Pfeifer. 4. Don McFadden and Paul Fowler hurridly consume a noontime snack at Jack-in-the-Box. 5. Kevin Hayes, Donna Phillips, Maureen Juan, Pam Thomas and Teressa Baum enjoy a casual lunch on the grass. 6. Barbara Nelson and Karen Luna enjoy Fabby Medina's sense of humor. 7. "Good to the last bite," is what Matt Myers tells his friend. (Photos: 1, 2, 4, 6, 7 by John Selivonik; 3, 5 by Paul Fowler.)

Got A Job?



1. Ernie Warring expertly bags groceries at Safeway. 2. Fabby Medina and Tim Ortiz help a customer at Taco Ole'. 3. Sharyn DeSpain hurridly types some student data for the nurse. (Photos 1, 2 by John Selivonik, 3 by Paul Fowler)

During this time of rising inflation, many students find it necessary to obtain a job. Some work one or two days a week and some work every day. The jobs range from upholstery to washing cars and working in a restaurant to being aides at other schools. The wages vary as much as the jobs do. Students make anywhere from $1.50 to $4.00 an hour. Besides working for just the money several students work through the career resource center and earn school credit while they work. D.O. and O.J.T. also give a student credit for working although they must be a senior to be in the program.

Malea Archer loves doing art work in her spare time. She does pencil drawings and ceramics. She came to Central because she felt there were more opportunities and a felling of freedom. Friends had recommended it for her. She likes all her teachers, because she feels they care. She doesn't watch too much TV but likes "Mork and Mindy". Her favorite group is the Commodores. She likes the movie "Young Frankenstein" and loves Mexican food.

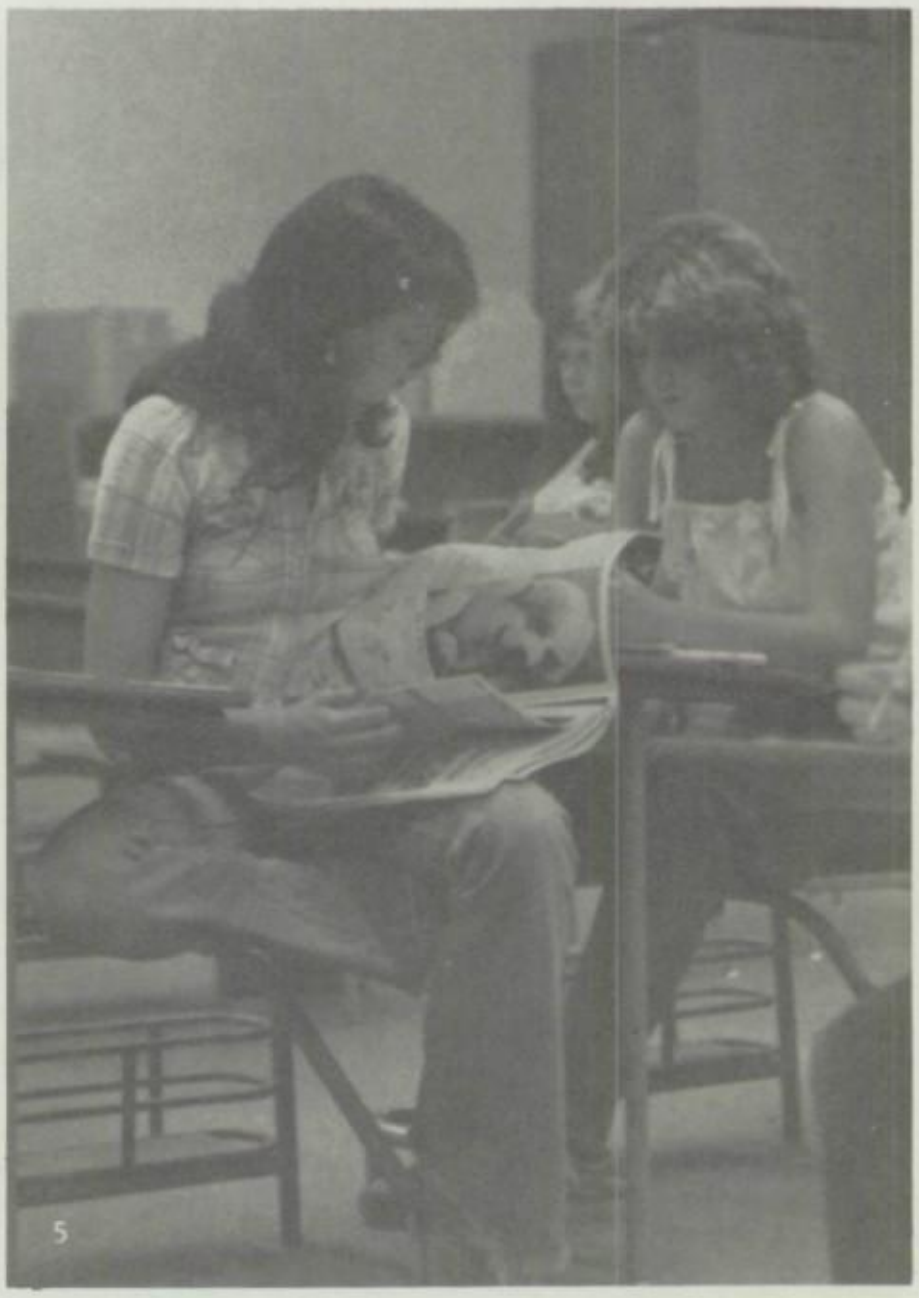
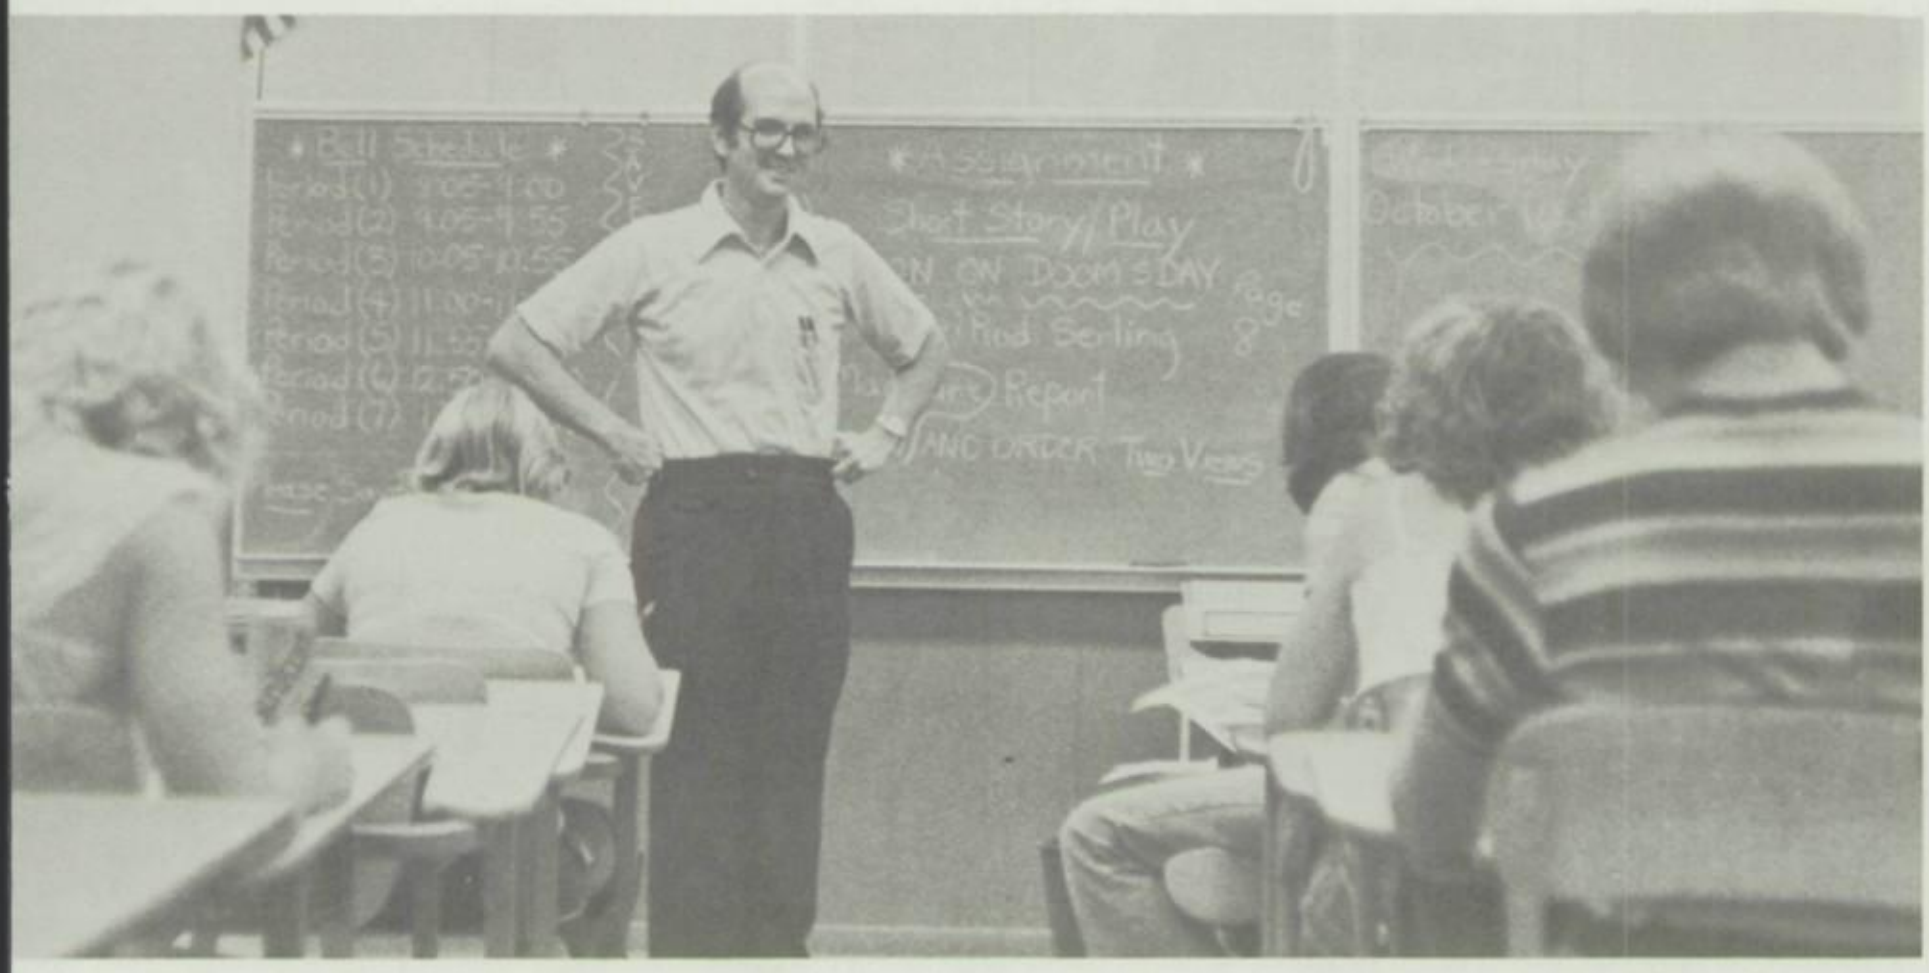
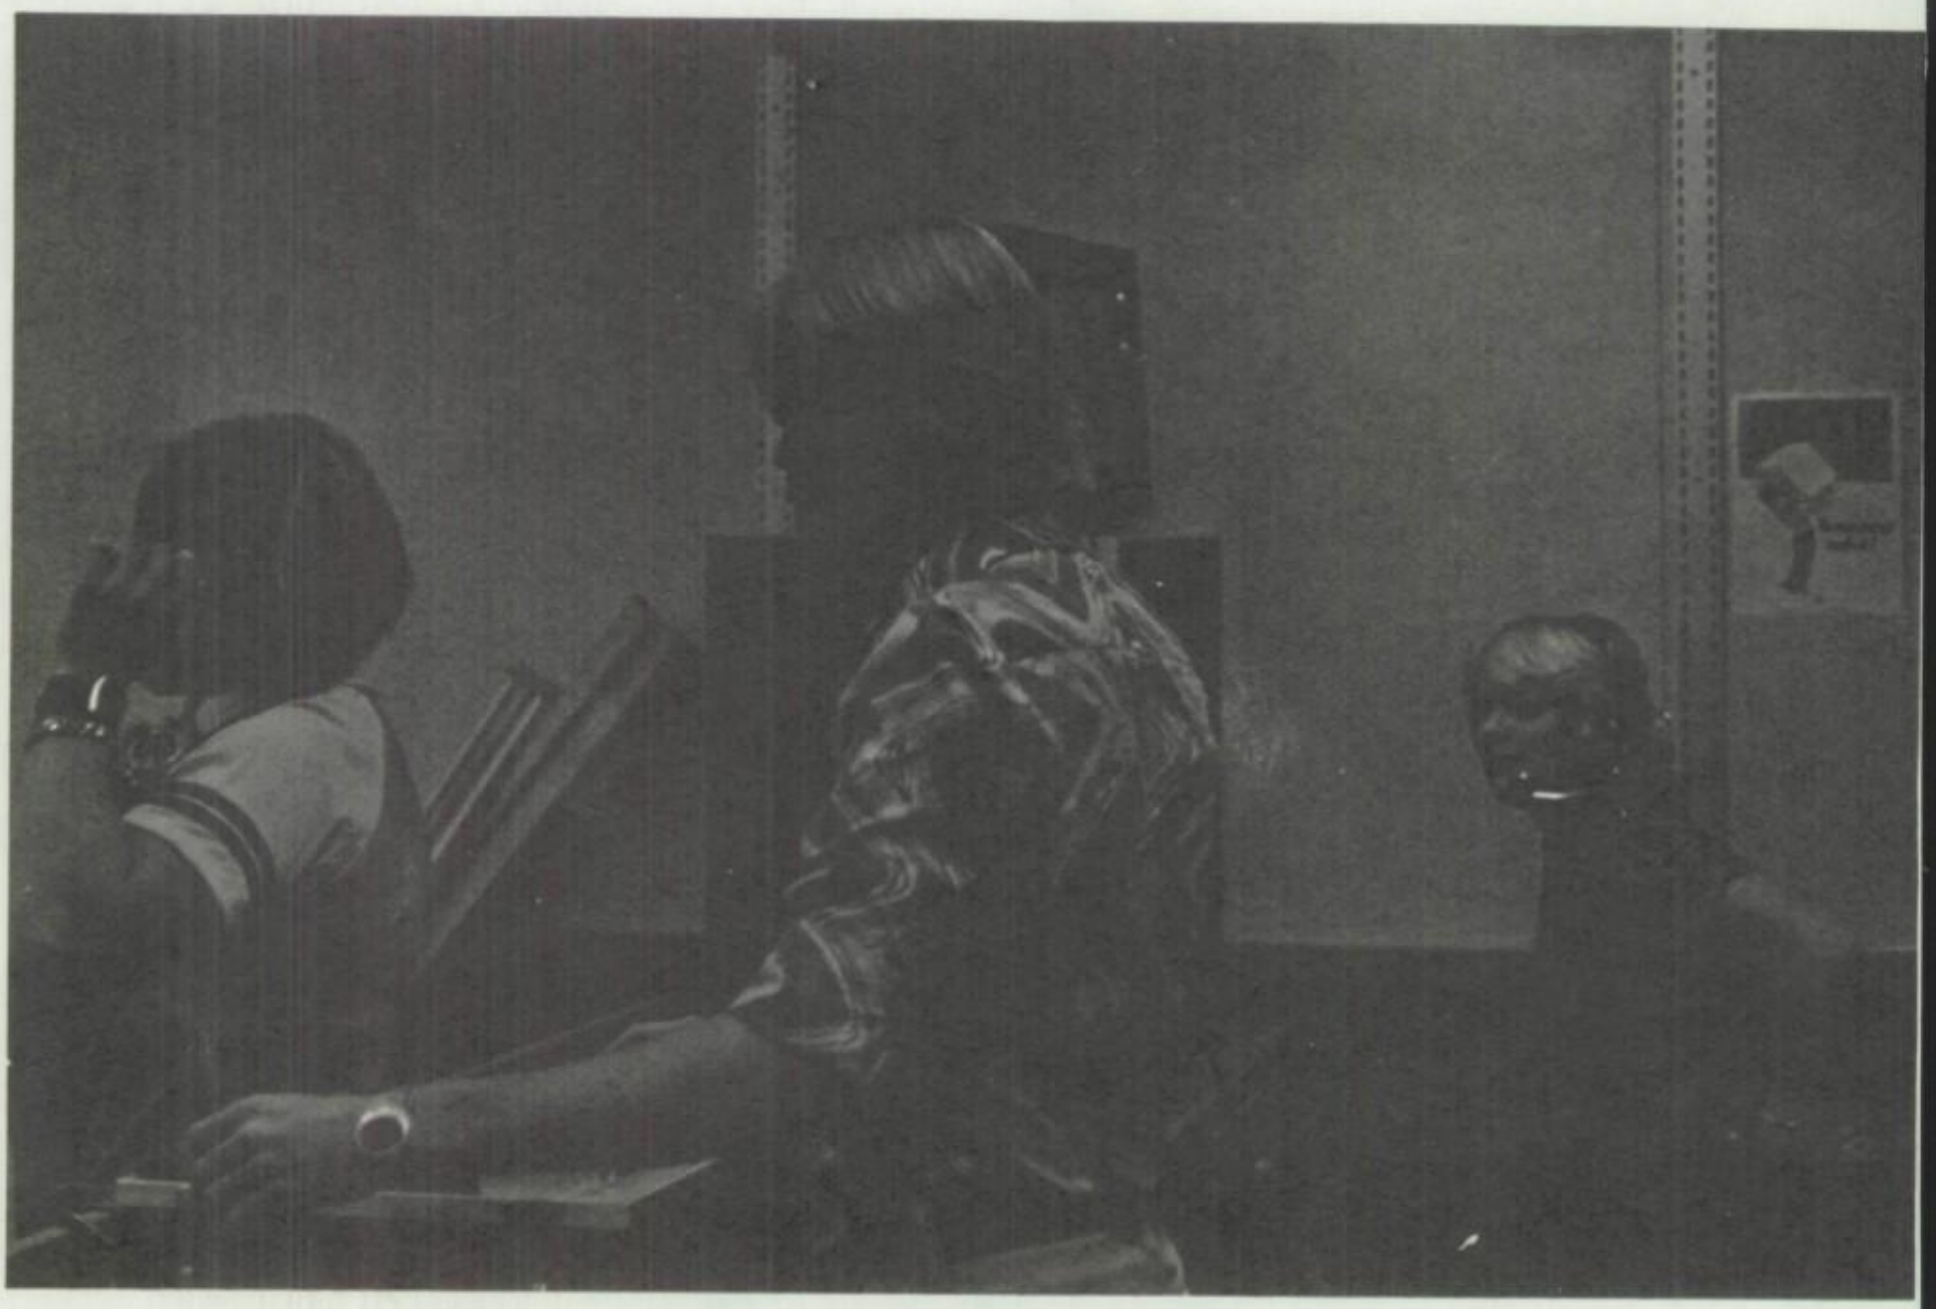
The English classes here at Mesa Central range from Principles of English I to Creative Writing broadening into elective courses like T.V. Production. There are four English teachers and at least two English classes during each hour. Mr. Stan Johnson and Mrs. Susan Brenden teach the required courses while Mr. Chauncey Roe branches out into T.V. Production and even Gun safety. Mrs. Jante (Paynter) Curran specializes in reading, both college prep and basic skills.

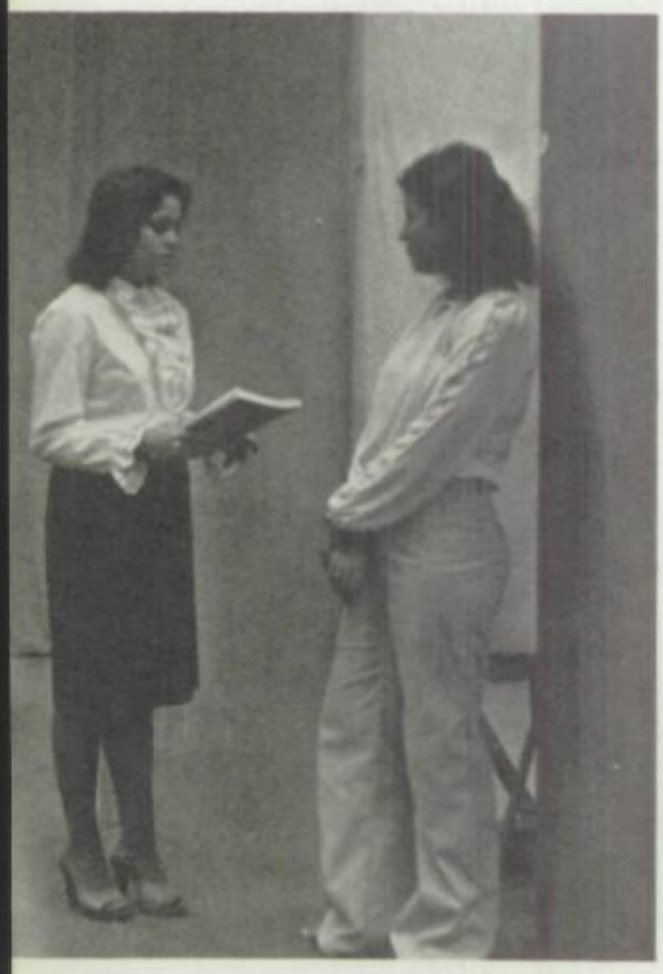


Reading/Writing—Necessary Skills

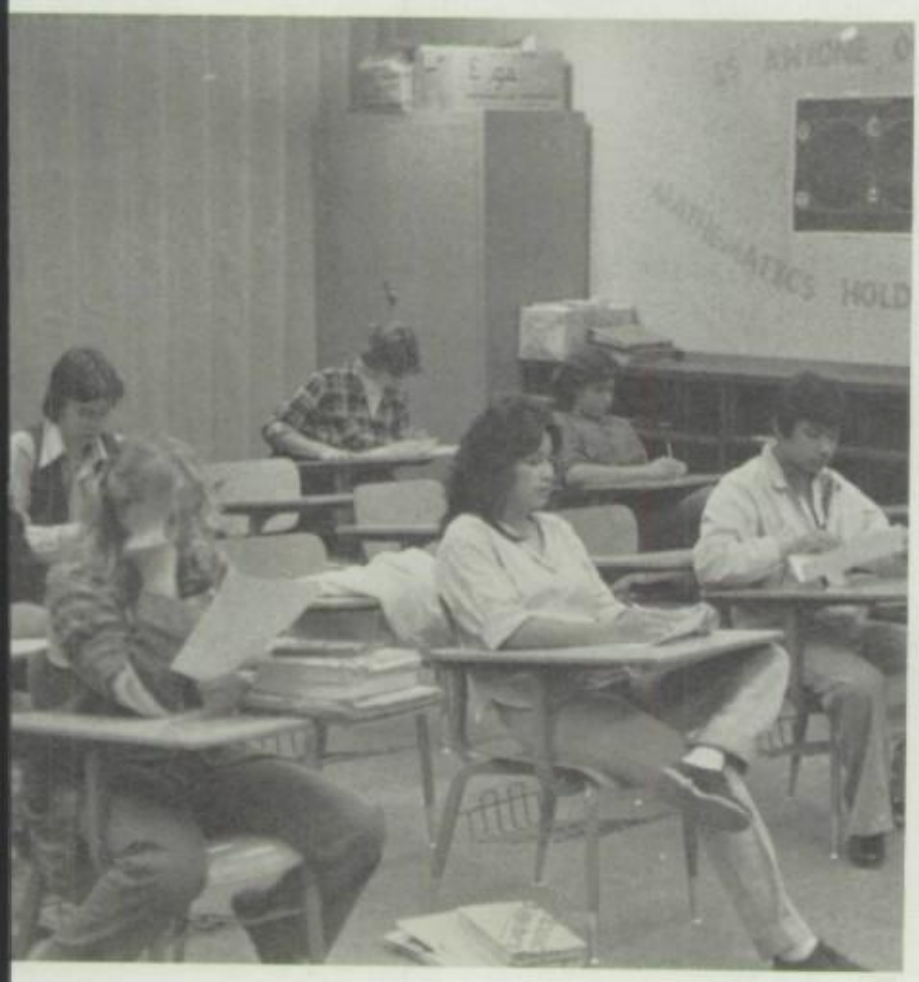


Applying Math Skills

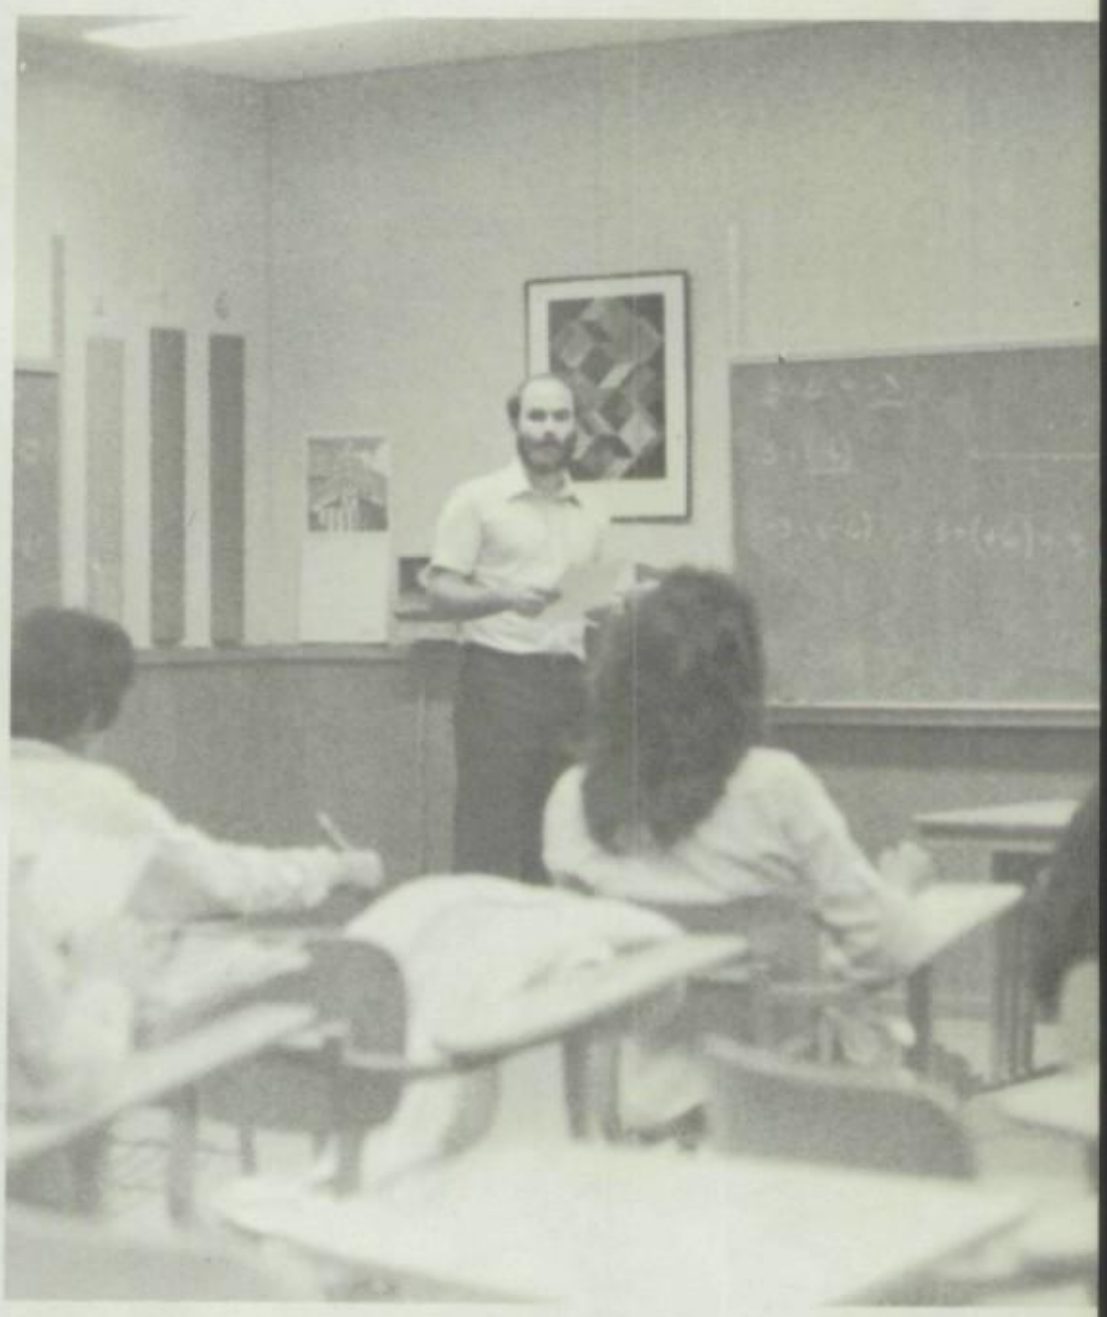




Mesa Central's T.V. Production class is the only one in the Mesa Public Schools System. The students in this class learn how to use cameras, special effect/switcher panel, and video-recorders, along with learning editing and producing skills. Also students write scripts for commercials and other subjects. Students spend two hours a day in Mr. Chauncey Roe's classroom, each year the students make a major production which takes 1-3 months.



1. Jim Hager, Mark Johnson and Angela Adams working the controls in T.V. production. 2. Debbie Burkhart and Lori Mangan acting out a shampoo commercial. 3. (Photos: 1,2&3-Bruce Best; 4,5 & 6-Don McFadden.)



Mesa Central's Math department offers classes in math ranging from Basic Math to Trigonometry including a pre-employment math seminar. Mesa Central has two math teachers, Mr. Phil Hettmansperger and Mr. Bill Crook, who teaches special education. Only one math credit is required for graduation.

auses Death

A power failure during Christmas vacation aused one death. No, not of a person, but rather f a snake. "Crackers", as she was known to her riends, died New Year's Day. She was to remain n her cage during the vacation. A rat was placed n with her, so she would have something to eat hen she got hungry. On December 31, there was a ower failure in the science department. The room ot cold, and the snake went dorment. Meanwhile, he rat got hungry, and started eating the snake. When Mr. McBride came to check on the snake anuary 1, he found the snake, with about twelve oles in it the size of half dollars. This was a case f the hunted being the hunter.

Learning The Business

Students have 3 different groups of typing: Beginning, Intermediate, and Advanced. Each one is an individual group. The students progress at their own rate.

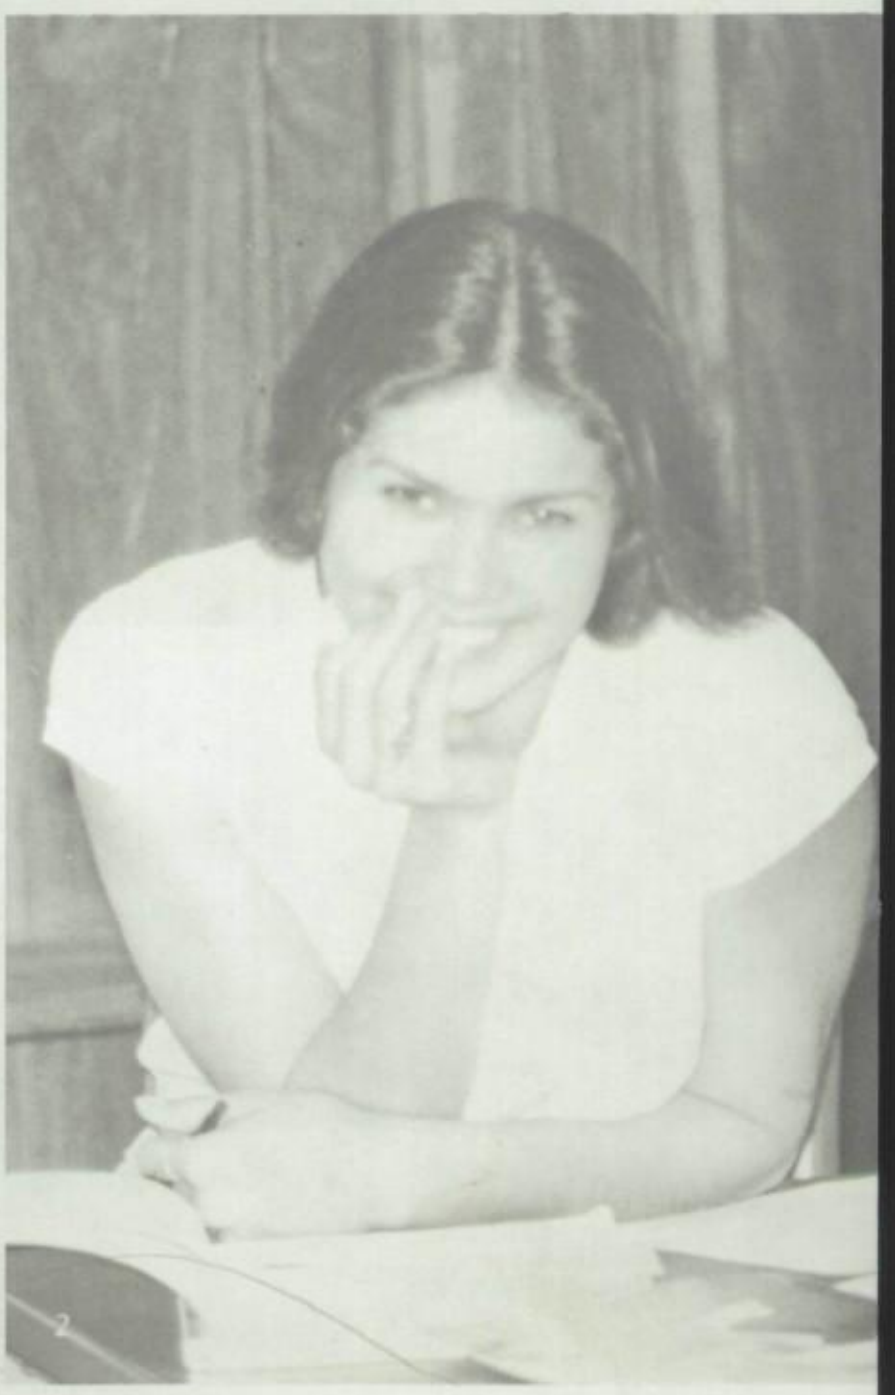
Students have another area of typing to get into. It is shorthand. It is Century 21 shorthand. Shorthand is a type of writing secretaries use. It is shorter than using long sentences that a boss would tell to you. Shorthand is hard, but it's a lot faster than writing full sentences.

There is another class in business, it's project IN/VEST. It is a simulation class. Students get exposure to a lot of business areas, such as receptionest and underwriter.

Students divide up and form their own companies. They also do things like sell insurance to students on campus, and make their own checkbooks.

In the business cluster or business area they get exposed to receptionist work, duplication, filing and shadow writing.

There is a new class this year called Medical and Legal training. Students learn how to be medical or legal secretaries. It is a 3rd hour class. The class is taught by Mrs. Cavender in rooms 14 and 15.



1. Students work diligently on the adding machines. 2. Patty Rodarte stops a moment to pose for photographers. 3. Mary Lopez works hard on her typing assignments. 4. Rosemary Duran carefully checks her margins. 5. Mrs. Anita Cavender gives an assignment to her students. 6. Amelia Medina and Terry Lindsay take a break while Martha Gomez works on her shorthand. Route To P.E. Credit

Driver Education and Gun Safety are only two of the P.E. alternatives. Any two or three hour vocational class can count as the last year of P.E. The Driver Education classes are taught by Mr. Ed Quihuis and Ms. Iris Drower. Mr. Mike Kauss helps out with the behind-the-wheel training. They use cars like the AMC Concord and Buick Sky Lark which are donated to the school district by local dealerships. The classes go on various field trips such as to the Police Station, License Bureau, the Mesa High driving range and to Mountain View High to the simulators.

Mr. Chauncey Roe teaches the Gun Safety classes. The students do classwork and go shooting at Usury Pass. Students learn how to disassemble and clean their weapons and how to enjoy hunting and target shooting safely.

Fun Is Meeting Your

To graduate you must have 3 years of P.E. or a designated P.E. substitute such as Drivers Ed., Gun Safety or a 2-3 hour vocational class. The P.E. department offers Recreational P.E., P.E. and Adaptive P.E. Some of the activities included in their classes are volleyball, basketball, softball, ping pong, weight lifting, tennis and newly added karate and fitness section. When asked what kind of class P.E. was Mrs. Stella Hunsaker said "fitness for life." There are 3 P.E. teachers, Mr. Steve Stine whose specialties are karate and tennis, Mr. Eddie Quihuis who specializes in basketball (he also teaches drivers' ed.) and Mrs. Stella Hunsaker who teaches adaptive P.E. and fitness. She also coaches girls' basketball at Mountain View.

Mr. Scott, HELP!!

This cry for help is heard whenever anything electrical goes wrong. Mr. Harry Scott's classes have fixed everything from extension cords to microwave ovens. They keep the campus air conditioners, heaters, refrigerators, fans etc. fixed. His classes air conditioning, general electricity, and construction. Students in his classes can get on-the-job training which can lead to jobs after graduation. VICA participation is a large part of this class. Students have always done well at the VICA Skill Olympics. This year, the Construction II class is divided in half. One semester is spent learning the woodworking part of construction, and the other half is spent learning plumbing and electrical wiring.

1. Mr. Harry Scott gives Kurt Kalmus and Wendell Winter instruction on a simulated cooling system. 2. Ron Lee takes a test on the simulator while Doug Edwards watches. 3. Ed Soward and Mr. Scott connect a new water heater in the teachers' lounge. 4. Tony Crooks (on the roof) and Mitchell Sherwin check out the air conditioning unit on the roof of room 1. Make It Pretty;

Body and Fender is a 2 or 3 hour block which covers the fundamentals of body and fender repair and painting. The students learn how to pound out dents, fill them with bondo, sand to a smooth finish and paint. The replacement and alignment of major body components like fenders, doors, panels, etc. and minor frame straightening is also included. This class was taught by Mr. Thomas Craig earlier in the year but he is now at Empire Machinery. Mr. Fred Duke is now the teacher. The cars that come in are student's cars, teacher's cars and cars brought in from outside sources.

1. Mr. Fred Duke showing how to adjust a door. 2. Tom Kegler getting into the action. 3. Ernie Warring sanding down bondo on his car. 4. Ken Lemier finishing a paint job. (Photos: Eva Baker.)

Auto Engine Overhaul is taught in two or three hour blocks by Mr. Freeman Stewart. This class is for those students who wish to perfect their performance in mechanics. The course deals with the disassembly, machine work, fit/rebuild, installation and checkout of automotive engines. This class also deals with head and block milling, valve grinding, piston fitting, reboring cylinders, knurling and other automotive skills. In order for students to take this class they must meet specified requirements.

5. William Adcock taking out valves. 6. John Smith grinding valve seats—a routine proceedure in overhauling an engine. 7. Kelly West putting the pistons back in. 8. Gary Shannon grinding valves. 9. Small Gas Engines is a 2 hour block which Mr. Chuck Adair teaches. He teaches Small Gas Engines I and II. The course deals with the operational theory and service procedures of two and four-cycle gasoline engines. The students develop trouble-shooting, tear-down, repair, re-assembly, adjustment and tune-up of small engines to include lawn mowers, stationary engines, minibikes and small outboard marine engines. You learn all this and more in Small Gas Engines I. Small Gas Engines II provides an in-depth continuation of Small Gas Engines I. Theory and repairs as applied to motorcycles compact foreign automobile gines is included. Mr. Chuck A lets the students bring in own motorcycle or V.W. to on if need be.

Vocational Auto Mechanics is a class or students who want to develop the kills needed that will assist them in etting a job in the automotive field. In his class you work on brakes, transmis- ion systems, chassis, suspension sys- ems, and engine performance analysis. This class was earlier taught by Mr. red Duke but because of his knowl- dge and know-how he was transferred the Body and Fender class. Mr. Fred Miller is the new teacher.

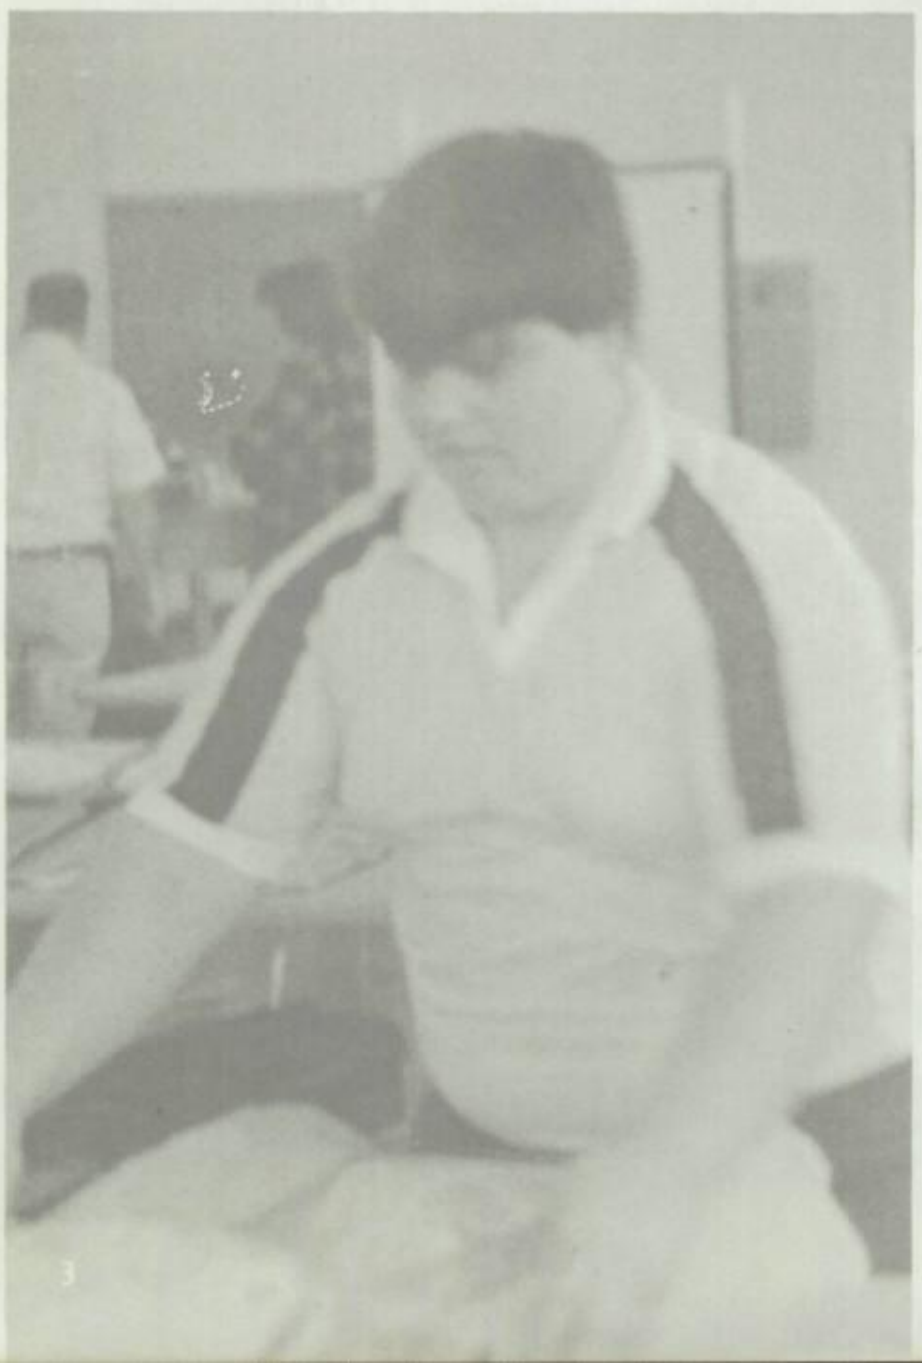
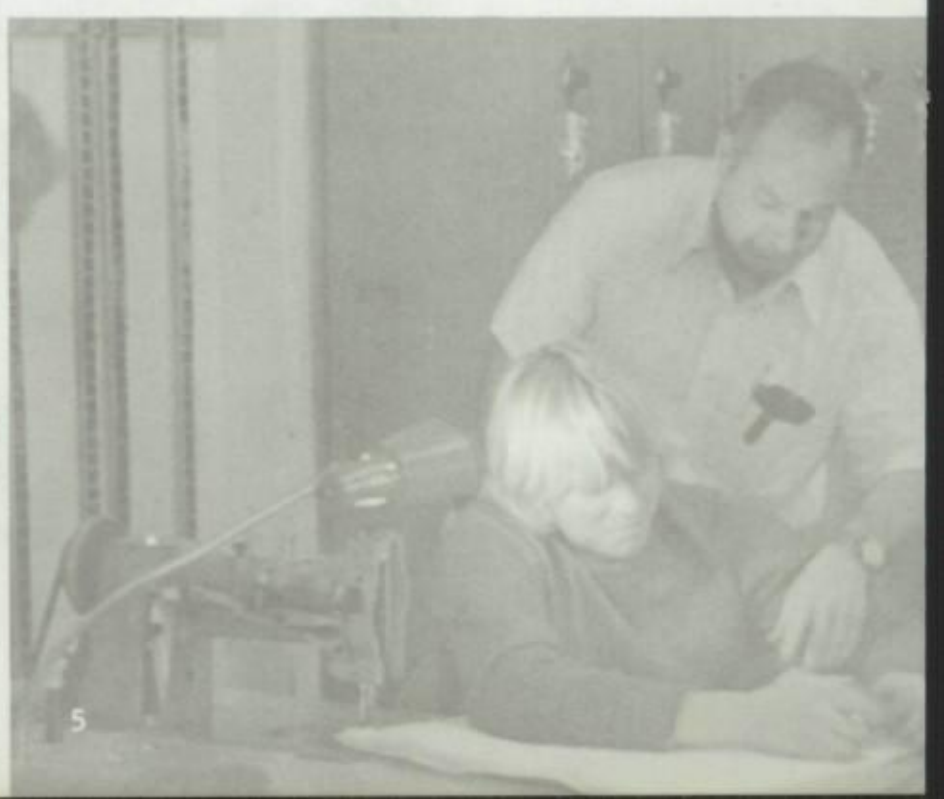
Students Develop

Upholstery is a class that Mr. Ned Lisonbee teaches in 2 or 3 hour blocks. The students develop skills necessary for job entry in the commercial upholstery trades by particpating in the repair and manufacture of auto seat coverings, door panels, etc. You learn techniques in diamond and roll stitching. Different types of materials are analyzed as to wear characteristics and ease of fabrication. Mr. Ned Lisonbee lets you bring in your own car seats or whatever else needs to be upholstered.





Welding is taught by Mr. Leonard Hennigan in a 1 or 2 hour block for advanced students. In Welding I you learn the basic skills in arc, low temperature brazing and oxy-acetylene. The basic fundamentals of welding are taught. Welding II is for those students who want to continue the skills they learned in Welding I. Mr. Hennigan gives you projects to work on that will later help you in getting a job in welding. You learn nonferous metal welding, hardfacing out of position pipe, cast iron, and heli-arc welding.

Than Making Cutting Boards

Cabinet and construction classes offer the development of occupational skills and opportunities. Students study plans and procedures in the building trades with partial construction experience. Students learn the cabinet making process by planning projects and in turn, fabricating the necessary parts and subsequent finishing. Quality of workmanship is stressed at all times.

Photographers Create With

Graphic Arts is divided into two sections, beginning and advanced. Beginning is a two hour class and advanced is three hours. In beginning, Graphic Arts I, students learn the basic skills such as preparing camera copy for reproduction, platemaking film developing and darkroom procedures and offset press fundamentals. In the advanced class, Graphic Arts II, the students learn computerized typesetting, mechanical artwork and finishing operations. Activity in VICA is part of the class.

Club members earn money for conferences and the skill olympics by doing printing jobs for the district and individuals. They print such things a fliers, wedding invitations, business cards, T-shir iron-ons, posters and many other things. Man students pursue further training such as Kurt Kal mus who plans to go to Maricopa Tech after h graduates. Others use their skills in related jobs Mr. Bernie Soricone teaches the class. In anothe room on campus Ms. Jeannie Shapiro teaches be ginning and commercial photography. The stu dents learn the basics of photo composition, devel oping and printing in beginning and expand thei knowledge to more creative things in the commer cial photo class.

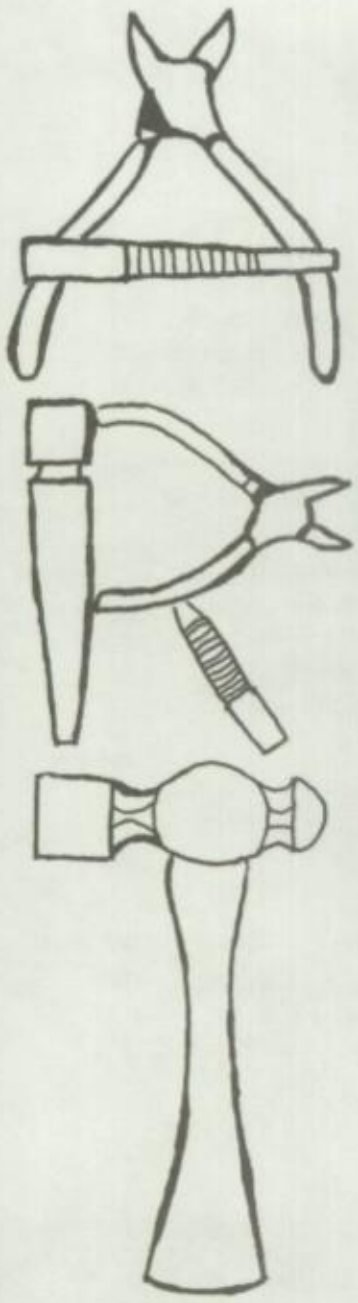
OJT (On-the-Job Training) and DO (Diversified Occupations are vocational courses reserved for seniors and designed to give students practical experience in trade, technical, industrial sales and distribution, agricultural and home economics occupations. Students attend one hour of class on campus and then must work at a job for a minimum of fifteen hours a week. Jobs include Custodial, mechanical, clerical and fast food services to name a few. Students must apply and be accepted into the program. It is not a class one can just sign up for. Mrs. Jean Engle, Mr. Fred Miller and Mr. Fidie Vasquez teach the related classes.



Teachers

Mr. Jerry Smith has been teaching at Mesa Central for four years. He likes teaching here and he likes the success of his students. He has about 100 students and Mr. Smith says the students are down to earth.

Mr. Smith says that at the beginning of the year everybody thought they had a new art teacher because he didn't have a beard and he had gotten thinner over the summer.

Ms. Jeannie Shapiro teaches art and photography. She's been teaching here at Mesa Central for 3 years and she loves it. She says "art's in her blood, it always has been." She likes the students, the freedom and the teachers here and "I love my room!"

She thinks everyone is creative, "its just a matter of tapping into it and their minds." "Young people today have so many things bombarding them from many different directions. They need to find a clear path to follow, to listen to their own hearts. I have faith that, in time, and with the wisdom that comes from years of experience-they will find this path."

Teens And Tots Grow Together

The purpose of the Parenting class is to allow high school students who have children to complete their high school education. The students develop marketable occupational skills. They receive assistance in child health care and nutrition. The students learn how to be efficient parents and homemakers along with making the home a good environment for their child. During the first year students must sign up for two class periods. The second year the second class is optional. These students have a real head start on other teenage parents because they have chosen to continue their education. It's easier than starting over once the kids are older.

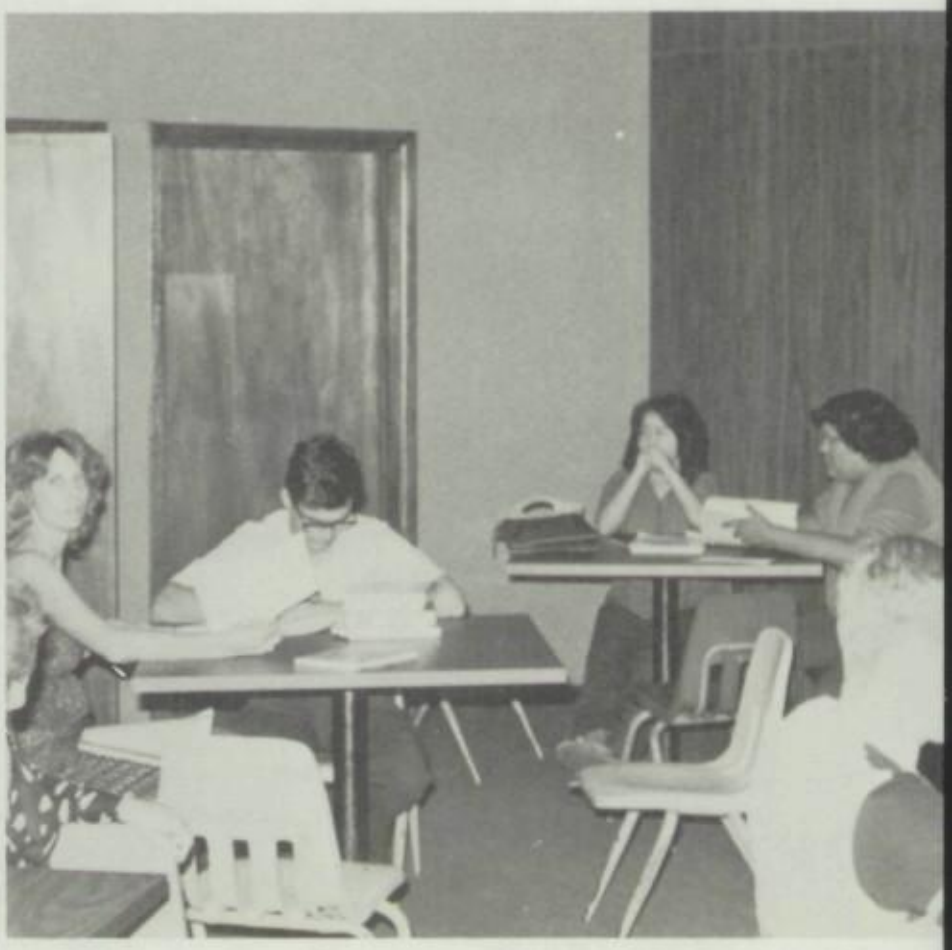
From Busboy To Manager



Mesa Central's Restaurant/Bakery class is a way to learn a trade as well as a place to eat lunch. Students in this class learn all possible jobs in a restaurant from a waiter to a cook. Mrs. Mary Ann Griffith teaches the class in a two hour block. Some students take the class and become professionals. The high point of the year was when a T.V. station came to see the Restaurant.

1. Donetta Steffy warms the plates before food is served on them in the restaurant. 2. Fifties Day Successful!!!

Fifties Day came to Mesa Central February 6th. Teachers were the judges of the Fifties Day Dance and costumes. Teachers such as Mr. Richard Bird, Mr. Stan Johnson, and Mrs. Susan Brenden participated. Winners received Golden Oldies record albums. Participation this year was the best ever. Congratulations to you winners!

1. Mrs. Brenden looks amazed while Mr. Miller snaps the picture. 2. After the dance Mr. Bird and Mrs. Jean Wattets won best dressed faculty. 3. Debby Burkhart and John Ruiz won the best dressed students at the dance. 4. Tim Ortiz and Ms. Theresa Luca dance their hearts out at the dance. (Photos: 1-Mr. Fred Miller; 2-4-John Selivonik.)

Small But Industrious

GRAPHIC ARTS VICA P.M. Front: Melissa DePriest, President; Kurt Kalmus, Vice-President; Alice Porter, Secretary; Scott Skowron, Treasurer. row 2: Mr. Bernie Soricone, Sherri Lewis, Parlimentarian; Bill Blackwell, John Kruck, Allen Piland.

GRAPHIC ARTS VICA A.M. Front: Penny Maloy, Ron Bulka, Secretary; Robert Lopez, Parlimentarian; Todd Cody. row 2: Mr. Bernie Soricone, Robert Steffen.

The Morning Graphic Arts VICA is the advanced class, while the afternoon class is mostly beginning students. After learning the basics the students do various printing jobs. They print fliers, business cards, brochures, certificates and even wedding announcements. They create and print T-shirt iron-ons and signs with witty sayings. The proceeds all go toward conferences and skill competitions. Occasionally they take field trips to printing plants. Several students work for printing firms on a part time basis These jobs often become full time after graduation.

In the beginning Mr. Freeman Stewart advised D.O. (Diversified Occupations) and Engine Overhaul VICA. When Mr. Tom Craig resigned everything shifted. Since Mr. Fred Duke took over Mr. Craig's classes, Mr. Stewart then took over his Engine Overhaul classes leaving D.O. without an advisor. D.O. was combined with Mrs. Jean Engle's OJT class and she and Mr. Fred Miller worked together with this large group. Each club retained its separate officers. Both D.O. and Engine Overhaul are affilited with VICA.

Youth Gets Involved

"Disco Spectacular"; City Council

Take Over — Two Of Many Activities

There is a new club on campus. It is called the Mayor's Youth Committee. It's numbers are few, but their functions are many. They meet on the first and third Tuesday of every month at Centennial Hall. On November 2nd they sponsored a "Disco Spectacular," which featured such disco recording artists as Bob MaGilpin, Jean Shy, Destination, and Patrick Hernandez. Although they had big name stars appear, the Mayor's Youth Committee lost money on the dance. When asked what he thinks of the committee, Mayor Wayne Pomeroy stated, "I think they're a good group of kids." The committee includes students from all high schools and junior high schools in the district.

P.E.P. On-the-job training is a vocational class club. It provides job readiness experiences in many occupations. The students are in class one hour a day and spend three hours or more on the job where they receive both pay and credit. Participation in the OJT club is part of the related class instruction where they learn organization and parlimentary proceedure.

AuAuthum, which means "the people" is the official name of the Indian Club. Membership is made up mainly of Indian students but anyone who is interested in Indian Culture enrichment is welcome. The purpose of the club is to promote cultural awarness and to educate students as to the heritage of the Indian people and how it has enriched the overall culture of our country. The club gives strength and unity to the Indian students and provides opportunities for educational field trips to cultural events at other schools. For the first time, Central's club hosted a cultural exchange on this campus.

Potential Car Doctors

Originally Mr. Fred Duke taught Auto Tune-up in the morning and Engine Overhaul in the afternoon. After Mr. Craig left Mr. Duke was reassigned to teach Mr. Craig's Body and Fender classes. Mr. Fred Miller was hired to teach the tune-up class and Mr. Stewart took over the engine overhaul class. These class clubs work on cars which are brought in by teachers and the public. The proceeds go into their VICA club treasury to help pay for trips to conferences and the skill olympics.

Pat Martinez looks around for reinforcements to calm down Mr. Bird who is ecstatic about being out of his classroom for an afternoon to accompany the Student Council on a field trip to ASU. 3. Buddy Pester helps Syndee Thatford with a trick shot in the Memorial Union at ASU.

Student Council has been a very active group on campus. Some of the activities they have sponsored include the Thanksgiving turkey race, several dances, concerts and assemblies. When asked what was the major thing that student council has accomplished, Mr. Richard Bird, adviser, responded "The student council has really raised the school spirit this year." In December T-shirts were obtained. This along with a lot of school spirit helped to carry them through May and made this one of their best years.

DEDICATION REWARDED

NATIONAL HONOR

NHS is an international honorary society for high school students who have high grades, have contributed to the school and have demonstrated responsibility. Students are selected by a faculty committee twice a year. The club's objective is to honor these students and give them recognition for their abilities. Fund raising projects such as car washes and flower sales allow these students to take educational trips, and pay for their color picture in the yearbook. Club meetings are usually held at noon in one of the sponsor's rooms.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Quill and Scroll, International Honorary Society for high school journalists, is primarily the fund raising arm of the yearbook staff. All staff members are automatically a part of this club. Funds raised help pay for yearbook extras and to pay for fees to send staffers to workshops.

The only requirement needed to join the Art Club is that you be enrolled in an art or photo class on campus. The main purpose for the club is to provide Artistic, Reliable, Talents for the school. They are involved in things like slide and copy work for instructional purposes. theater sets, mural painting and serving as art aides when posters and drawings are needed. One of their projects has been to provide artistic decor for Central Quisine. Photos and art work changed once a month. Other art shows included one in conjunction with the annual open house and a sidewalk display in the spring. Some students priced their work for sale while others put their work on display only.

FINALLY!

Dear Staff,

I have grown in many ways from this editing experience and I owe a lot of it to you, staff. Even though this job brought discouraging and difficult moments at times we wouldn't want to trade these moments for anything because without these times we wouldn't be having the feeling of joy and satisfaction in accomplishing something.

This year has brought so much, it has brought all of you and the many rich and rewarding memories of the year we spent together.

In striving to create a yearbook that brings many memories of high school days, a variety of phrases are always heard; "Pages are due today", "Who has the grease pencil?", "Has anyone seen the copykey?", "Paul, could you reprint this picture?",. . . these are frustrating times, but times I'm sure we could not do without.

I wish to extend my gratitude and thank each and everyone of you, not only for your work, but for your love and friendship, for without you this book would not be possible.

Sincerely,

Lynda Nelson
